NAONE GOES TO PRISON
FOR TWENTY YEARS

PHILIP NAONE, THE SENTENCED WIFE-MURDERER.

Judge DeBolt Gives Him the Maximum Penalty Kapea in Court---McDuffie on Trial.
Great Libel Suit.Philip H. Naone received from Judge De Bolt the maximum penalty of the law for manslaughter in the first degree, of which he was convicted on Friday last for the killing of his wife on October 8, 1904. He was sentenced to be imprisoned at hard labor for twenty years.When asked the usual question Na-one had nothing to say, but J. J.
Dunne as his counsel asked for the minimum penalty of ten years. Even that period was enough, the advocate said, to make the judge or himself, if sentenced thereto, blow out his own brains. He agreed that the jury, while finding the defendant sane enough to commit crime, indicated by their verdict that they considered he had acted in the heat of passion.Judge De Bolt observed that he had no desire to be harsh or appear unjust, yet he thought that the jury had been extremely lenient. The evidence would have justified a verdict of murder in the second degree, and he felt that the verdict was more lenient than the defendant had expected. It appeared to have been due to the ability with which Messrs. Dunne and Thompson had conducted the defense that the jury brought in a verdict for a lesser crime than the facts seemed to warrant.After sentence had been passed Dunne asked that Naone should be permitted to visit his parents and three little children. Judge De Bolt thought the request proper but doubted the court's power to grant it and suggested a reference to the Attorney-General. Mr. Andrews thought it a matter for the High Sheriff, and, finally, Mr. Dunne was allowed to inform that official that the court recommended allowing the privilege.Naone's manner during the proceedings for his sentence differed markedly from that he bore throughout the trial.
While then his demeanor was that of acute melancholia, his eyes never being raised from the floor, now he was wide-awake with a well-braced attitude to meet the worst the law had for him. During the trial, owing to the fact that for the first time in such a case here the jury were at full liberty between sessions of court, with free access to the newspapers, the Advertiser refrained from any comment upon Naone's bearing and demeanor. Many times it was noticed by onlookers that Naone, when critical evidence was being given or strong remarks were being uttered about himself, would make visible efforts to prevent the betrayal of any expression that might indicate a rational appreciation of his position. In this he succeeded well so far as controlling his facial muscles and eyelids went, but a certain bracing of the body to keep immovable and a hard gulping action of the throat showed an intense realization of everything. Some who had harbored an idea that he must have been insane when his terrible deed was committed changed their minds fromobserving how perfectly self-contained he kept himself through the awful life or death ordeal in the courtroom.

KAPEA IN COURT.

Henry Kapea, indicted last year after he had fled the Territory for embezzling a bond of Waiakua Agricultural Co. valued at $500 from the Hawaiian Trust Co. and brought back from London under extradition proceedings, was produced in court before Judge De Bolt for arraignment yesterday morning. At his request he was allowed to reserve his plea until Wednesday morning so that he might procure counsel. This indicates that he intends putting the Territory to its proof of his guilt. Kapea appeared in court dressed in style and had a jaunty air about him. His bail was fixed at $2500.

ALLEGED CONSPIRATORS.

Eight Japanese laborers of Honolulu plantation indicted for conspiracy upon arraignment were represented by Henry Hogan, who had their pleas deferred a week with the intention of attacking the indictments.

THE FEDERAL COURT.

A jury was obtained late yesterday afternoon before Judge Dole to try Frank C. Bertelmann on another indictment for false personation of a Federal officer, he having been acquitted on one indictment thereof the present term. J. J. Dunne, Assistant District Attorney, is prosecuting and L. M. Straus and J. W. Cathcart defending. The trial will begin this morning.The Pacific Mail Steamship Co., by its attorneys, Kinney, McClanahan & Cooper, has answered the libel in admiralty brought by Delegate Kalani-naeole for damage to a suit case and its contents. Contributory negligence is set up, also the allegation that the property was not worth the $1334.50 claimed.

MCDUFFIE ON TRIAL.

A. McDuffie, former policeman, was put on trial for receiving a bribe as an executive officer before Judge De Bolt yesterday. Deputy Attorney General E. C. Peters prosecuted and F. E.
Thompson defended. The prosecution having rested at five minutes to 4 p. m., the trial was continued until 10 a. m. to-day.D. M. Ross, Wm. P. Roth, H. W.
Green, B. Guerrero, C. Lambert, W. L.
Austin, F. W. Macfarlane Jr., F. J.
Robello, F. M. Kiley, Jas. Steiner, Job Batcheelor and W. L. Lyle are the jury.Witnesses called by the prosecution were Ah Nam, Chun Su Lin, Arthur M. Brown, Henry C. Hapai, Ching Mon Gar and Ume Kawate. The last-named is a Japanese woman who had toddling about her feet while on the stand a tiny boy wearing, regardless of the etiquette of courts, the inevitable military cap that every Jap kid is topped with these war times.Ah Nam and Ching Mon Gar were the two principal living links in the chain of evidence when Ah Cn, the Chinese policeman, was tried for the same offense and acquitted. The Japanese woman in McDuffie's case is a new link, being put up as the person through whose hands the alleged bribe of $5 finally passed. On her cross-examination she denied that she was threatened, in a certain interview, with being sent to prison and having her baby taken from her if she would not testify against McDuffie.It is one of the so-called "Hatter" cases.

LIBEL SUIT TRIAL.

Henry C. Carter, George Lucas, S.

M. Ballou and Arthur A. Braymer were the witnesses called yesterday, in Judge Lindsay's court, for the plaintiff in the $50,000 libel suit of Sidney M. Ballou, attorney, against Samuel Parker, capitalist. Following Braymer the plaintiff was recalled to the stand, holding it until adjournment at 4 o'clock.A great many documents were put in evidence, connected with the famous contest for licenses from the Government to construct the Hamakua and Kohala irrigation ditches.The suit is on account of charges made against Ballou in an affidavit by Parker in the Annie T. K. Parker, minor, guardianship case, alleging that he played false to Parker in that matter as a former client of his in the ditch business. Its conclusion was in substance that Ballou was unfit to practice law in any of the courts of the Territory.Mr. Ballou on the stand denied that he was personally connected with the ditch negotiations, although his former law firm—Kinney, Ballou & Mc-Clanahan—were consulted by some of the parties. Further he testified that the land of Annie T. K. Parker was not on the line of the ditch at the time in question under consideration. There were two distinct propositions with respect to water sources, one being to irrigate the Hamakua and the other the Kohala plantations. Asked if it were true that he was unfit to practice law the plaintiff answered:"I do not consider I am. If that was true it would have been brought before the appropriate tribunal long ago."J. Alfred Magoon, who drew the Parker guardianship pleadings, conducted the cross-examination of Ballou. R. W. Breckons and former Justice W. A. Whiting are associated with him as counsel for the defendant. A.
G. M. Robertson conducts the case for the plaintiff, assisted by Robbins B.
Anderson of Ballou & Marx.

EJECTMENT DECISION.

Judge Lindsay rendered a decision in the ejectment suit of Agnes C. Galt vs. Lulia Waiakua, finding for the plaintiff for the recovery of the land without damages, costs to be paid by the plaintiff. The decision is in accordance with a decision of the Supreme Court on questions reserved, and the conditions as to damages and costs are the result of agreement in open court. When the case came back to the Circuit Court no new evidence was offered, hence only one decision was possible. The land in question is 6230 square feet at Kawanakaoa, Honolulu.

PROBATE MATTERS.

W. O. Smith, in various fiduciary capacities, yesterday had accounts approved by Judge Lindsay as follows:Annual account as trustee under the will of Achi K. Akau, with receipts $291.76 and payments $962.44.Annual account as trustee for Achi K. Akau, a minor, with receipts $30 ance due the guardian $126.05.Account as guardian of Billy Bray, ments $230.25.Account of W. O. Smith and A. F.

Judd, trustees of J. H. Wood trust, $1603.30, leaving a balance of $513.67.

to $7998.67.Judge Lindsay approved the account and granted the discharge of Wm. K. Rees, executor of the will of Keoluha Rees, balanced at $98.Maria da Luz Medeiros, executor of the will of Joao Gomes Medeiros, has filed an inventory of the estate, showing house and lot at Kalihiwaena, $600, and cash in Bishop & Co.'s bank, $2050, a total value of $2650.

complaint of John C. Searle, sheriff of the Island of Hawaii, in which complaint that the court had jurisdiction to issue the alias execution.L. M. Whitehouse by his attorneys, denial to the complaint of G. J. Mc-Carthy upon a claim under a road

A Lasting Effect.

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim Made for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills in Honolulu.Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer; but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted.
Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it:James E. Howard, a resident of Honolulu, writes: "I feel it incumbent upon me to inform you of the benefit I have derived from the use of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. I had been a sufferer from backache and kidney trouble for years, but after using a few boxes of Doan's Pills, have found great relief and have had no recurrence for at least six months. I am seventy-two years old, having served three years during the late Civil War in the United States where I undoubtedly contracted the kidney disease by exposure and hardships. I feel very grateful for the relief I have received, for I had previously tried various remedies without success. You may use this statement for publication as you see fit."Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price fifty cents per box, or sent by mail on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug
